

LOWDOWN FARM

MOIESE, MT

Lowdown Farm is a small family farm located in the beautiful Moiese Valley of Montana. Our holistic approach to agriculture maintains healthy soils through cover crops, green manures, crop rotation, and animal manures. We also work to provide and maintain habitat for pollinators, birds, and other wildlife on our farm. We strive to be good stewards of the land that provides us our home and livelihood, and enjoy sharing it with all the other creatures passing through. We're ever grateful for the abundant lifestyle that organic farming has afforded us and our family.

HARLEQUIN PRODUCE

ARLEE, MT

Kaly and Brian have been farming in Western Montana for more than a decade, growing crops based on principles of agroecology. Knowing that land is among our most important resources, they continuously replenish their soil by tilling in cover crops and using living mulches to grow high quality, nutritious produce. The farm's commitment to Certified Organic production practices offers consumers the peace of mind that comes with knowing your food is healthy—for you and for the earth in which it was grown.

THE OIL BARN

SHELBY, MT

The Oil Barn is a small, women-owned business located in the Golden Triangle of Montana. We pride ourselves on being grown in Montana, Made in Montana, and Organic. Our carefully selected non-GMO safflower seed is grown on organic, family farms in Montana. It is cold-pressed in small artisan batches, unbleached, and unrefined in our zero waste facility. Over our years of organic farming, we have developed a deep respect for the earth and understand the value of healthy farming practices.
