HAMILTON, MT

Local Bounti is a leading controlled environment agriculture company that operates indoor growing facilities in Montana and across the United States, all 365 days of the year. Local Bounti uses sustainable methods that require 90% less land and 90% less water than conventional farming. With a mission to 'bring our farm to your kitchen in the fewest food miles possible,' their production system minimizes environmental impact and waste while producing exceptionally fresh, nutritious, and long-lasting food.
